Nutraceutical and Functional Food Asia Pacific Summit 2016

— A DUXES EVENT

June 30-July 1, 2016 · Novotel Singapore Clarke Quay

The active participation in the most influential functional food industry players in the Asia-Pacific region made this summit a very successful and impressive one. Attendees expressed how the rich on-site networking and discussion opportunities really created a great platform to promote their companies' brands and expand potential business fields.

Invited speakers from local governments and authoritative associations like the Malaysian Dietary Supplement Association, the National Agency of Drug and Food Control of the Republic of Indonesia (BPOM), Food Standards Australia New Zealand (FSANZ), the Ministry of Food and Drug Safety of Korea, the International Life Sciences Institute (ILSI), and the Ministry of Commerce in China, interpreted the latest regulations and policies of the functional food industry in local regions, including the future development trends in Malaysia, the regulatory framework in Indonesia, China, Australia and New Zealand, regulation changes in Korea, and market admission routes of overseas nutraceutical and health food markets.

Moreover, top management from many international leading companies also shared their expertise and practical experiences with attendees. When talking about the application of Nutralys® Pea Protein in sports nutrition, the representative from Roquette analyzed the impact of pea protein on satiety and showed some application examples. Later, experts from By-Health delivered a presentation on the topic of personalized trends and technologies of health food, and Colorcon Asia Pacific respectively talked about the film coating of nutritional supplements. Day one of the summit ended with an interactive cocktail party which was sponsored by AstaReal, the world's leading Astaxanthin supplier.

On the second day, the speaker from Kyowa Hakko Bio displayed their new nutraceutical values with innovative amino acid, peptide, and oligosaccharide-fermentation technologies, which truly caught attendees' attention. After that, regarding functional drinks and channel distribution strategies, speakers from TCI and GNC both shared their new ideas and suggestions. The meeting ended with deep discussions on solutions for healthy ageing and healthcare brand building, which were presented by experts from Gencor Pacific and Blackmores.

Based on the previous six years' industry exploration, the summit reached new highs for our nutraceutical and functional food event series, and all seats at the meeting were occupied. The generous sponsorship from AstaReal, Roquette, Colorcon, KYOWA, TCI, Gencor, DSM, and HOFFMANN helped the summit run more smoothly and reach a wider audience. We are looking forward to the next win-win cooperation.
